INTRODUCTORY

This little booklet, entitled "Descendants of Daniel McNair of Georgia, Jacob Miller of South Carolina, James Nisbet of Georgia, and Robert Jones of South Carolina," has been prepared by me for private distribution among the members of the families referred to. Without a permanent record of family lines the sources of information will become more obscure and family relationships less known with each generation, until finally tradition only remains. It is to be hoped that the information contained in this little volume may be handed down to future generations, that they too may have a just pride in their ancestors, who have uniformly been regarded as pious and God-fearing men and women.

DANIEL McNAIR DESCENDANTS

GENERATION I

DANIEL McNAIR

Daniel McNair was born in Scotland in 1748. He died in Richmond County, Georgia, in 1811, and was buried near the old Martin McNair place a few miles from Blythe, Georgia. His will was recorded in Richmond County, July 1, 1811. When he came to America he settled first in Virginia, then in North Carolina, and then in Columbia County, Georgia, later removing to Richmond County. He had two brothers, Gilbert, (the father of Anna McNair, who married her cousin, Samuel McNair), and John, a tailor by trade (who had one son and three daughters: Betsy, Janet, and Polly who married John Lucky), and may have had other brothers and sisters.

Daniel McNair served in the Georgia Militia during the Revolutionary War, and for that service received 287½ acres of bounty land in Washington County, "bounded east by Isaac Skinner. Other sides vacant. Lot 558, Warrant 856, June 3, 1784, Page 196." Revolutionary Records of the State of Georgia, page 202. Daniel McNiell, Jr., was granted bounty lands "bounded on south by land of Daniel McNair, in Washington County." Same book, page 269.

Colonel James McNiel receipted for 250 acres of bounty land as agent for Daniel McNair, under Resolution of August 19, and Act of August 20, 1781.

Grant No. 264, account of bounty lands. Revolutionary Soldiers Receipts for Georgia Bounty Grants, pages 35 and 36. The original power of attorney is in the Department of Archives and History of the State of Georgia, Rhodes Memorial Hall, Atlanta, Georgia, and is as follows:

"I hereby authorize and empower James McNeil to act as my attorney—and call on His Honour, the Governor, for the certificate of bounty lands which the State of Georgia is due me for my service in the Revolution.

"As witness my hand and seal, this 5th of January, 1784.

"DANIEL MCNAIR (Seal)."

"TEST:

MICL. MCNEILL

JOHN CULBREATH."

For continuation of this line, see Generation II, and the following generations, of the descendants of Daniel McNair; also, James Birtley McNair's book on the McNair family in America, pages 63 to 72, inclusive, published by the author in 1923, in which book the Daniel McNair line appears.

JAMES NISBET DESCENDANTS

The first family, according to family tradition, originated in Scotland. The family consisted of James, Captain of the 1st Regiment of Foot Guards, who was killed at the battle of Waterloo, and his wife, Mary, who was the daughter of a wealthy merchant.

James Nisbet was born in 1782, and was educated at the University of Edinburgh. He was a member of the House of Commons from 1801 to 1806, and was a member of the House of Lords from 1806 to 1810. He was a member of the House of Commons from 1810 to 1815, and was a member of the House of Lords from 1815 to 1820.

JAMES NISBET DESCENDANTS

The Nisbet family, according to family tradition, originated in Scotland, but being followers of Oliver Cromwell removed to Ireland to participate in the distribution of lands among Cromwell's followers, where during the fifteenth century John Nisbet suffered martyrdom rather than abjure the Protestant faith.

James Nisbet with his wife and six brothers emigrated from Ireland to the United States about 1785 or 1790. James settled first in South Carolina, later removing to Georgia. His brothers settled in different sections of the country, and were soon lost sight of by James.

JAMES NISBET

James Nisbet married Sarah Frew in Ireland. He died in 1830, and his wife died in 1835. Both are buried in the burying ground of Hopewell Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, in Newton County, Georgia. There is a family tradition that James Nisbet served in the Navy during the War of 1812. A published sketch of the family stated it as a fact, but the certainty of it has not been verified.

Their children were:

1. Elenor Nisbet, born in Ireland; married John King.

LATER VISIT TO SCOTLAND

The visit to Scotland, according to family tradition, was made in 1755, the year following the death of James Oglethorpe, and it is said that the purpose of the visit was to see the remains of the great explorer, who had been buried in the old church of St. Andrew's, Edinburgh. The visit was made by James Oglethorpe's son, John Oglethorpe, who was then a young man.

James Oglethorpe's son, John Oglethorpe, was born in 1725, and he was the first of his name to visit Scotland. He was born in the town of Savannah, Georgia, and he was the son of James Oglethorpe, who was the first of his name to visit Scotland. GENERATION II

ROBERT NISBET

Robert Nisbet, son of James and Sarah (Frew) Nisbet, was born in America; married Eliza Graves, daughter of William and Mary (Kirk) Graves, of Virginia, in Wilkes County, Georgia, in 1817. He was an elder in the Presbyterian Church for forty years, and was a charter member of Hopewell Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, which was organized in 1830. He and his wife are buried in the burying ground of that church, not far from the graves of his parents, James and Sarah Nisbet.

Mrs. John D. Humphries, great granddaughter of Robert and Eliza (Graves) Nisbet, has a Seth Thomas Scroll Clock with wooden wheels for which Robert Nisbet gave a bale of cotton when he was a young man.
